INTRO

I am the spirit of the castle
I am the castle and its soul
I am its walls and gates
I am the rooms and hallways
I am the people who defend it
And all their dreams

I am the Ka
And my essence gives life
To the Castle

KA

The Castle is that place
Where Dreams come to shelter:
Sometimes from a danger
Most of times from abandon.

Under my mighty Wings
Have rested All human dreams;
Chased by Nightmares or
Forgotten by their human.

See them wonder in desolation
Through the immense hallways
The heartbroken look of the first day
Desperately looking for solace and healing.

In dismay they shiver
After they bump into the Tiger
Whose bright burning
Defends the gate and the Castle itself.

See them bow down in my presence
Because I am Ka, I am the Castle, I am them all.
Their dreamy heart lying at my feet,
A Guardian will appear.

TIGER, TIGER BURNING BRIGHT

I was there (I always am) that time
When a young dream arrived
It was scared and almost fading
With no one left by its side

An army of Nightmares was behind it
When the Tiger with a jump
Made the bad dreams turn away
And sent them to the dump.
“Why you here?” Tiger asked.
“I’m a dream of peaceful land
Full of trees and ponds and birds
Till the nightmares had me banned

Along the Castle gate
Burns a fire that never ends
It’s the Tiger, it’s the Tiger
That the world of Dreams defends.

I resisted, yes I did
To protect him from anguish
But the man was desperate
And here you see me languish”.

No one is allowed against my will
I’m the Ka and the Tiger is me.
Friends will get in
Enemies paralyzed in fear will be.

To the Castle go and heal
I will hold the nightmares off
When you seize his nights again
I’ll oust his foes with a cough

There goes the Tiger walking
Fiercely with her burning eyes
Ready to fight a million foes
Or brightly welcome my allies

So the happy land restored
The dream back to its place
The man healed and recovered
With a big smile on his face.

MY DREAM'S HERO

Y oung and strong
But mind his sword
It will not take long
Before seeing yourself floored.

He's one of the five Heroes
The Castle towers and jewels
Who enemies turn into zeros
Making Nightmares stop short of risking duels.

One dark night a bullied boy's dream reached the gate
It was defeated, hurt and in despair
Help me Hero! I can't fail my mate.
The night was lit by his sword glare!

Solitude and Fear he fought
A bunch of nightmares too
The joy back he brought
And sky turned blue.

Hero's song.

BALLOON

His weapon a blue balloon but his power great;
He turns the fiercest foe into a kid's mate.
So the creepy nightmares of an adult
Vanish and let a kid's dream exult.

Grief was destroying woman's soul
When Dream attention stole.
The balloon flew to sky
She was on a high.

Dreaming of kites
Flying her nights
To spur
Her.

DON QUIJOTE 3.0

From the world of dreams
Of the ancient Spanish lands
Comes the audacious Knight
Who windmills and nightmares disbands.

With his lance in rest
He welcomed the Dream
That was looking for support
“Poor me, my case is so extreme!

I’m a girl’s best dream
But her mind is now packed
With foes that don’t exist
I don’t know how to react”.

On his loyal Rocinante
Jumped our brave knight
Screaming “¡Adelante!”
He was ready for the fight.

It was not a windmill
To be clear it was a fan
But it finally surrendered
To the courage of the man.

So the Dream was back on duty
Making the girl’s life bright
And Quixote once again
Comes victorious from a fight.

PLAYFULLY

Play!
That's what he'll say
To the lost dreams who plead
For help, shelter or lead.

Play!
With the biggest smile
He will make them dance and sing
Turning winter into spring.

He did that so many times
Even I (The Ka) have lost the count.
But those Dreams, when they went back,
Had the vigor Nightmares to smack.

And they used the power of Joy
With their girl or with their boy.

I AM

In the blue
From the highest highs
It watches the Caste and its crew
Nothing can hide from its eyes.

I am the Ka and I can feel its pride
And the power its wings radiate
When it slowly approaches with a glide
And enemies prepare for checkmate.

No dream of pride his sleep can penetrate
Said the dreams' leader with pain
To the Eagle they all venerate
Knowing it was not in vain.

Depression and disgrace let nightmares rule
But their tenure was to end soon
When the Eagle appeared with its eyes cruel
And horrified they started to swoon.

We're the Nightmares of disgrace
Said the bravest of the gang
Let us own this cursed carcass
Where a happy man we hang.

A majestic storm of fury
Eagles wings spread open wide
Like the verdict of a Jury
Man's mind left unoccupied.

Pride Dreams were back to their thing
Pushing man out of the dark
So that pride and joy will spring
In a new life happy spark.

Print on every pentagram
Eagle's motto: I am!

PROTECTOR OF DREAMS

When a kid is scared at night
And the nightmares start to fight

Will the Castle send a vase

With four dragons set in place.

Adults can't see them at all

Children see them and feel safe:

All the nightmares at nightfall

Will start suffering the chafe.

The four dragons in a vase!

Room is guarded, let's go away!

No need for dragons to chase,

With their dreams kids back to play.

VEGAN LUNCH

So greedy of herbs and greens
He eats nightmares as they're beans
In a flash makes a room clean.

Monstrous nightmares are so scared
For retreat they are prepared
Had he to loom undeclared.

So dear kids and adults all
Just in case you have to call
Keep a carrot, big or small.

THE FUTURE IS NOW

O f the Castle he is the Lord
For the Nightmares he's the end
No one's alive who saw his sword
Foes and friends their knee will bend.

To the rescue he will come
If your mental health's at risk
Getting rid of all the scum
It's his mission, makes him brisk.

A sworn enemy he' got
Mister Dawdle is its name
For centuries they have fought
To destroy it is his aim.

You hesitate or linger
And to mister Dawdle bow
The smooth voice of a singer
You'll hear say: "Future Is Now".

DREAMS' CATCHER

They say it's a flying pig
That dreams swallows with a swig
In the castle a bigwig.

When a dream's getting bitter
And it's lost all the glitter
Our pet will make it fitter.

She will drink it and then mix
With a candy, two or six
And her belly do the tricks.

Figs and candies she will slurp
Without warning she will burp
Dreams Pang is gone with a chirp.

There she goes on her magic rug
And her weapon called hug.

She's the air force of the place
Moving quickly with her grace.

So when nightmares dreams defy
In a moment she will fly.

She will hug the dreamer tight
And the force of the starlight

Will all nightmares swiftly crash
And gloriously win the clash.

Guard of joy, soldier of love
Coming quickly from above.

MAGIC CARPET

NIGHT WALK

A night walk
An owl as mate
Nightmares' way to block
And their plans to frustrate.

You can see them walking by
If you carefully look around
Singing a delightful lullaby
That all the monstrous nightmares leaves spellbound

The owl voice makes all children fall asleep
While they're sweetly lulled by loving dreams
And all their monsters run and weep
Defeated in their own schemes.

Have a look every night
An owl and his mate
Come to delight
Your sleep state.

It's a dragon! No, it's three!
Say all people when they see
Castle's patrolling appointee.

The fortress walls are secure
Nightmares will not take a tour
They would rather evil life abjure.

They roast enemies with fire
Making their situation dire
And wishing they could retire.

Dragons never leave the fort
But to threaten it cuts short
Evil plots of any sort.

PATROLLING

REJOICED

She's the boss of glee and joy
Who will make you life enjoy.

With the power of her smile
She can make a land fertile.

Dreams come begging for advice
And she smiles and hugs them twice.

A glow suddenly appears
Full of colors, toys and spheres.

And whatever was once sad
Just like magic becomes glad.

ROAMING

In the streets of a city
You see her calm and pretty.

Just a kid girl with a smile
And a look so full of style.

But wherever nightmares be
She'll be eating them for free.

They show up after the meal
On her T-shirt like a seal.

If you deeply think of her
Something magic could occur

In your place she might appear
To devour your pain and fear.

SHE HAS NO FEAR

There's no limit to her daring
There's no boundary to her fame
So the armour she's wearing
Could the name of war rename.

She's a hero of the five
Her red shield is her mark
None of her foes is alive
Her sword cuts the light from dark.

Think of of her lucent shield
When you find yourself in tears
Because when she is appealed
She will kill all of your fears.

THE CLIFF

He's the rescuer in chief
Who's flying from cliff to cliff
To catch those who are falling
Because their lives are stalling.

Desperate calls here resound
In the castle all around:
Nobody will call in vain
Because he will not abstain.

He will take you by the hand
He will let you firmly stand
He will tell you with his drawl:
"With strong wings you can not fall!"

SOL INVICTUS

His shiny sword's never failed
That's why Invictus he's named
In all battles he's prevailed
Heroes' hero he's acclaimed.

A million books need his feats
But one thing you have to know
If you're broken by defeats
Of your foes he is the foe.

In your dreams he will appear
He will whisper in your ear
You're invincible my dear.

STRAIGHT DIRECTION?

If you're feeling dazed and lost
A solution with no cost
Is to have Castle gate crossed.

Meet this guardian, see his smile
Walk with him just for a mile
Talk to him in the meanwhile.

He will lead your dreams to light
So your life will be so bright
Everything will be alright.

SURFING

Once upon a time
Came a Dream right from Trondheim
To confess a serious crime.

He fled the boy's mind.
When the guardian was assigned
He said: "Leave your grief behind".

"That night he was glad
I thought he would not get mad.
I escaped and now he's sad.

The fate made things worse:
Nightmares quickly cast a curse
And my act I can't reverse."

Guardian with a smile:
I'll be ending your exile
Let me ride you for a while.

Like a fairy tale
Was the Dream turned into whale
To the boy's mind back to sail.

With a brutal crash
By the whale enormous splash
Nightmares were cleared in a flash.

That night dreamed the boy
Of a man surfing with joy
On a whale, shouting: "Hoy! Hoy!"

WALL DEFENSE

He protects the Castle wall
But whenever they will call
He helps Artists above all.

A graffiti that's removed
Is a Dream that was reproved
It's a world that's unimproved.

So an artist who gives up
Turns the world into a cup
Good just for taking a sup.

So without any delay
He will jump with color spray
And avoid human misplay.

Look around there where you are
On a wall just not too far
There's his tag with a bright star.

She's a hero, she's a mum!
Her sword makes nightmares so glum.

She gives life to all the Dreams
That is why she always beams.

She's the mother of your hopes
The one that with hurdles copes.

For her you wake up restored
Thanks to her amazing horde.

She will fight your dreamless days
And lead you out of any maze.

Call her when you're feeling blue
She will quickly reach to you.

In the Castle or outside
Warrior mother is my pride.
